Dear Dave,

Thanks for your nice invitation. I really did come very close last spring to asking if I could drop in. Unfortunately, the schedule just got too crowded.

I want very much to make the visit during this next academic year but I'm not in a position to propose a date at this time. At the moment I'm tied down to Washington while we go through the testimony on SALT II. I hesitate to plan to get away and then find I would be needed here for some testimony. I will, however, keep your invitation very much in mind and will let you know as soon as we can plan a little further ahead.

All the best.

Yours,
